TWISTangle

For future logistic with Twistangle, powered by LSA-technology (Laser Surface Authentication), the packaging-material's "fingerprint" is registered by scanning the material's individual surface on a microscopic level at the beginning of the shipping process.

To get the parcel's receiving information, only one corner needed to be re-scanned. So Twistangle enables a comfortable and easy access from all directions, without searching an extra added chip or barcode. The scanner with the special geometric form fits to all corners of every parcel, and simplifies the logistic process.
