

DragAndDrop

Using a tangible interface made by physical element the user can bring them from one to another are of pantry, generating an order of this product.

make an order:
put the jar near a shop-token
and automatically an order start to the selected shop
At supermarket a digital system take the order and the location for delivery.

the system gives you help in the kitchen keeping relation between foods and suggesting recipe based on a diet or on your previous choose

DragAndDrop

A domestic tangible interface (TUI), usable from all, for online ordering. Designed for handicapped or with difficulty in movement, but usefull also for all to reduce urban traffic and save time.

A screen displays all information about product, relation between them and allow to manage them.

